A contest is assured in the upcoming school election to be held Monday, June 8 to name three members to the Crawford-AuSable Board of Education.

The four candidates include:

Crawford County Recreational Activities

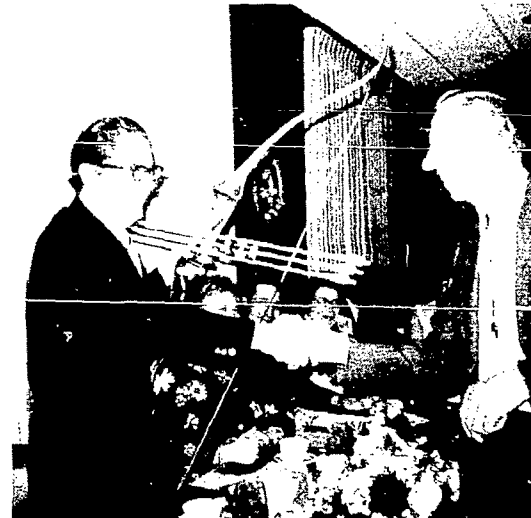

The Main Stream AuSable, the South Branch, and the North Branch have been good for trout fishing. Even though cool weather prevailed, the hatch has been on of Stones, Drakes, and leavertails. The past few days have seen good hatches of Brown trakes in mid-afternoon.

Spincasters, bait fishermen, and nymph fishermen took nice catches on those sections of the rivers open to all types of fishing.

More mushroom hunters could find their activity at a peak this week, and mushroom foragers should look to the Ardwood hills west of Frederic and Lovells, also southwest of Grayling.

All rivers are normal and early day canoeists can have prime viewing on the birdlife and wildlife of Crawford County. All spring foliage and early wildflowers are up and all campgrounds open.

PRESERVE OUR ENVIRONMENT

NO STRING OF BEADS for Manhattan Island, was Fred Bear's remark as he presented Frederick Young, of New York City this Bear Trophy Bow, but accept this from Grayling, "Archery Capital of the World" and the land of Hiawatha. Presentation was made following the "Beautiful America" awards banquet held last Friday evening.

The small red flowers are made by the handicapped and disabled veterans from veterans' hospitals.

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

Money, money, money. Sometimes it seems that all people talk about is money. Some hoard it, others let it slip through their fingers. But, whether spender or saver, no one is unmindful of it.

Sometimes it seems as though even in church we hear too much about money. Isn't that the one place where money shouldn't be mentioned at all? No.

It isn't money that is at fault, but our attitude toward it. In earlier times, we gave of our services, trading one thing for another. Today we use money as a medium of exchange. It is the spirit in our use of that exchange, in both our spending and saving, that counts.

So, give to the church of your choice. Give generously, if you can. But even if you can't give — go.

Nit-Pickers Paradise

An amusing bureaucracy item of the week comes from a community in Ontario, Canada. A taxpayer received a tax bill for one cent. She went to the town office and insisted that the clerk take a check for one cent. In explanation she said, "It may cost me 15 cents to write the check, but if they are so hard up for pennies I'll feel safer with a canceled check." Millions of U.S. taxpayers will, no doubt, sympathize with this woman. Paying taxes is now subjected to such a nit-picking barrage of rules and regulations that a vast new "growth industry" has come into being to help taxpayers stay out of jail. Late reports indicate an unprecedented boom in the tax consultant business. No doubt, like the woman in Canada, many taxpayers will pay more to find out how much they owe the government than they will ever pay in taxes.

An Abuse of Citizenship

Those who strike against government, and their ranks are growing, have set a precedent that, no matter how it is rationalized, presents a deadly threat to freedom and self-government. This is what the law says about the person who accepts employment with the federal government: "An individual may not accept or hold a position in the Government of the United States or . . . District of Columbia if he — (1) advocates the overthrow of our constitutional form of government; (2) is a member of an organization that he knows advocates the overthrow of our constitutional form of government; (3) participates in a strike, or asserts the right to strike, against the Government of the United States or the government of the District of Columbia; or (4) is a member of an organization of employees of the Government of the United States or of individuals employed by the government of the District of Columbia that he knows asserts the right to strike against the Government of the United States or the government of the District of Columbia."

Striking against government is an abuse of citizenship. There is no other word for it.

It just seems that cold weather don't want to let up. Instead of balmy spring days, we have been having cold weather. During Sunday night there was ice frozen in some places in town. Also on Wednesday there were light snow flurries. Cars coming in from Traverse City and other western cities say there was quite a heavy snowfall Wednesday. Also the region of Lansing reports snow the fore part of the week.

Are Property Taxes Going Up? Why Should They?

By Col. Joseph A. Parisi, Jr.

Executive Director
Michigan Township News

Two distinguished members of the Michigan Legislature, in recent weeks have raised their voices in protest against what they claim is "local officials blaming the legislature for high taxes."

We appreciate the concern of both Senator John Bowman and Senator Garland Lane, who joined together in making these comments. We want to make it clear that this is not a defense of what the two Senators claim is a lack of proper assessing procedure on the part of local government officials. Instead, we would like to make a suggestion to correct an evil which has been bothering us for several years.

Mr. Edward Kane, Secretary of the Michigan State Tax Commission, was also correct in stating "we don't establish tax rates at the local level." We have a profound respect for Mr. Kane. However, although his statement is quite true it nonetheless is also true that because of operating funds for schools being based on millage, each year, as the State Tax Commission concludes the work of state equalized figures, local school districts; and for that matter local units of government as well, automatically find themselves getting much more in tax monies because the same millage is applied to an assessed figure (state equalized value) which has been increased by the action of the County Equalization Commission and subsequently the Michigan State Tax Commission.

It is for this reason that we suggest the following:

1. That all future elections for extra voted operating monies be conducted on the basis of raising "so much in dollars and cents" each year. Let us illustrate what we mean. Let's assume that the Podunk school district needs $500,000 additional funds to operate for the next five years. This means $100,000 per year.

2. Rather than what we are now doing in keeping the millage "frozen" and applied to the new, annual, higher state equalized value, let us, each year, after the equalized values have been established, transpose the $100,000 figure into precisely the exact mill rate which will raise ONLY $100,000, THAT YEAR. This is HONEST taxation.

Supply, if this method is used.
Buy-Sell in the Avalanche

a legal but immoral system of taxation which is crippling the Michigan taxpayer, will come to a halt. Truly, this will restore honesty in taxation, it will restore the faith of the taxpayer, it will bring common sense to taxation and once more people will know, precisely, in dollars and cents, (not in the little understood language of "millage, assessments, state equalized value, etc."), what their taxes are going to be. This should also eliminate much of the confusion which now exists.

We can understand the position of Senators Bowman and Lane and also that of Mr. Kane. However, let us never forget that the single, most important element of the process of taxes and taxation is that great army of Michigan citizens, THE MICHIGAN TAXPAYER. This, we suggest, is a much sorely needed TAX REFORM, which would make sense!

We elicit your comments on this suggestion.

CITIZENS GROUP MET MAY 18

A meeting of the Grayling Citizens Committee was held in the High School Library Monday evening, May 18. A group of about 20 were in attendance. Expressed were views about the possible merger with Gerish-Higgins and Houghton Lake school districts which is being studied by the Bureau of School Services from the University of Michigan.

Topics discussed included transportation, academic advantages, school and community spirit, student competition, need for learning creative use of leisure time, need for auditorium, and need for vocational classes.

Also discussed was the middle school which would house grades 5 thru 8, which we are in immediate need of regardless of merger plans.

Members of the committee will be contacted as to the date and place of the next meeting.

THIS GENTLE LITTLE ANIMAL CAN INCREASE YOUR INCOME FROM $2,000 to $20,000 A YEAR!

The raising of Chinchillas is a fascinating business and one that every member of the family can enjoy. And by following a few simple rules and instructions, it is in no way difficult.

The raising of Chinchillas is a rapidly growing industry answering the increasing demand for quality furs. Garments made from Chinchilla furs such as coats, stoles, capes, hats and many others have long been recognized as the most luxurious and expensive of the entire industry. As such, the need for quality animals is great and affords the individual rancher an opportunity to realize a profit on a nominal investment.

SILVER STAR CHINCHILLAS needs associate ranchers — people who can qualify as ranchers and who would like to invest in your own business without devoting your full time. As an associate rancher, you will devote a minimum of effort in your spare time to a project your whole family will enjoy. Because of the natural cleanliness of the animals, and the limited space requirements of the original breeding stock they can be kept in a basement or spare room, so that the beginner need not furnish additional facilities.

500 View Battin Drain

By Willard Bosserman
County Extension Director

500 fifth and sixth grade students stopped by the Battin Drain as part of their natural resource Wednesday, May 13. They learned about the history of the drain, its physical features, the controversy over it and what could be done to improve the situation. I explained to them that a lake improvement board would be the most logical vehicle to get the job done. If a lake improvement board is not formed, the chances are pretty good that nothing will be done to improve the situation.

Controlled burning was explained by Ralph Anderson, game biologist, Department of Natural Resources. He explained that the controlled burning of brush and trees was done to improve the habitat for wildlife that preferred open areas. Sharp tailed grouse and prairie hens are two such birds. Much of the area on this Fletcher Road site, had been planted to pine trees. The burned area was an area that was missed by the planters but had grown up to brush and shrubby oaks.

Kenneth Neep, District Conservationist, demonstrated how Andie Neilson developed his own fishing site on his farm north-west of Roscommon.

The pond also serves as a watering place for wildlife and as Mr. Neilson plants more shrubs around the pond, it will provide additional food and shelter for wildlife in the area.

The pike spawning area west of Houghton Lake was explained by Russell Lincoln, fish biologist, Department of Natural Resources. He explained how housing developments around the lake had destroyed all of the natural spawning areas for pike. Flooding of the marsh land west of the lake became necessary as an artificial means of providing pike spawning if pike were to remain plentiful in Houghton Lake.

Doyle Voice, District Forester, Department of Natural Resources, boarded each bus as it entered the forestry state campground on the north shore of Houghton Lake for lunch. He explained to the boys and girls how the campground program worked. He said they would remain more rustic than the state parks to accommodate those who were looking for a more primitive situation.

The tour was planned by Arthur Thayer, Grayling Elementary Principal, and myself in conjunction with the 4-H conservation project carried out in the Crawford county school system.

The sixth grade of the Gerish-Higgins school and the Merritt school of the Houghton Lake system took part in the tour as well as the children from Frederick St. Mary's and Grayling fifth and sixth grades.

A Home Safety Tip

New York Police advise that all residences should have stronger security measures including a double-lock for the entrance door, as well as a chain bolt lock. The chain should be short so that a hand cannot reach inside and be long enough for you to see the person at your door.

Letters To The Editor

May 18, 1970
St. Route, 20
Grayling, Mich. 49738

Dear Editor:

In your recent attempt to set the record straight concerning equal representation for the people of Crawford County, your informant failed to mention the fact that the initiatory petition to achieve equal representation was circulated by members of the Democratic party.

He stated that the election at large, was lawful; A play on words. The intent of the law was evaded by the county officials who had two years to comply with the law, but chose to sit on their hands. Evasion of the law is just as serious as violation of the law. The interpretation of the law, to the letter, without regard for the spirit of the law, is to be questioned.

Speaking of spirit, you would think a public servant would be a public spirited person with the interest of the community foremost in his actions. I hate to use the word "Economy". It may be too much of a shock to some of the members of the Board of Commissioners. Their action in giving your informant a raise during his term in office is a breach of public trust. He plays with words, and they play with our money, and I don't believe that he or they know the rules of the game.

Dane Madsen With Theater Group At Utah College May 14-16

By Phil Schneider

MT. PLEASANT — Four Central Michigan University students will present an experimental chamber theater production during the Interpretation Theater Alliance program at Weber State College in Ogden, Utah Thursday through Saturday (May 14-16).

The Interpretation Theater Alliance is composed of a group of colleges and universities in the far west with representatives who meet annually to present and evaluate experimental productions of a semi-theatrical nature. The experimental productions cross the boundaries of traditional theater to include use of interpretative reading techniques.

Cast members of the CMU production are Diane Anderson, Royal Oak junior; Dane Madsen, Grayling junior; Jack Scharar, Mt. Pleasant junior; and Trudy Yarnell, Battle Creek freshman. The experimental chamber theater production was prepared and directed by Elbert R. Bowen of the CMU Speech and Dramatic Arts Department.

Bowen's production is an adaptation of a modern American novel, translated to a state medium which retains the narrative as an essential part of the drama.

The four CMU students presented a 20-minute version of the same novel at the University of Arizona earlier this year and will present a 50-minute performance at the Alliance meeting. Bowen will serve as one of two guest critics at the festival.

Voice Of The People

Calvin Knowles, Commander
Veterans of Foreign Wars
Commander Calvin:

I greatly appreciate your invitation to contribute to your excellent series on Americanism in the Crawford County Avalanche. I hope the enclosed expression of my own feelings is not too long.

This bit about being for something being corny has gotten to me. Square or not — and I guess, I am pretty square, by some folks standards — I believe we must promote positive values or be washed under by those who are against everything and whose only solution is the non-solution of destruction and obstruction.

Keep up the good job you are doing — speaking out for Americanism.

Sincerely,
Lou Cramton

What has happened to patriotism in America?
Is it dead — or just in hiding?
Is it a casualty of an unpopular war? Did it die in Viet Nam?
Or on a college campus?

105 MICHIGAN AVENUE
GRAYLING, MICHIGAN
"Specialists in Fabric Care"

It is easily understood that patriotism and people don't do so well in the ghettos of America. Rats, disease, scummy living conditions can only breed more disease and discontent.

But if that explains why militant slum dwellers more often wave flags than flags, please give me the excuse for so few flags flying from houses or in yards in our roomier, attractive suburbs.

Is Suburbia so busy trying to meet payments and commuting that there is no time to give a thought to the other debt owed by all of us?

And what of our smaller, friendlier communities far from the choked, corrupted atmosphere of the big cities? What is OUR excuse here in Northern Michigan for not openly demonstrating our gratitude and respect for this country and its form of government?

Are there any of us that don't feel they are pretty darned lucky — taxes and prices and all — to have been born and privileged to live here?

Those who preach discontent, dissent and destruction have no difficulty in finding flaws, serious flaws and gross inequities in our society. And though reasonable people will quickly admit we are anything but perfect in this society, they can see that (1) there are ways open to us to cure and correct our ills and (2) the good that has been given us in this country far outweighs the bad.

Certainly, even with all that's wrong with our courts, campuses and cities — we must look like a much better bet to any rational person armed with the facts on how things are here and in less fortunate areas.

If anything, we have probably "had it too good" and have come to take the good for granted — and only see and be distressed by the bad.

No system of government, no amount of planning will really erase poverty, injustice, prejudice and problems. And no amount of money, either.

As long as we have humans to deal with, society will reflect their imperfections. Dishonesty and greed will never be completely stamped out.

But is that any reason to just give up — to turn back on the best basis for getting along with each other ever devised by man. Our system gives us the way to keep fighting away for a better life for everyone, a fair trial when we are in trouble, freedom to say and do what we want when it doesn't hurt others. We can work and pray and play in a manner and place of our own choosing. Nowhere else do men

Adventists Participate In "Disaster Relief"

Eighteen trucking students from Lansing participated the week of May 12-14 in operation "Disaster Relief."

The students are all members of Lansing Community College's Transportation Department. They will be involved in picking up and trucking to New York City an estimated fifty tons of processed used clothing for welfare use. A total of more than 10,000 student driven miles will result by the time the trip is completed.

Each spring and fall members of the Seventh-day Adventist churches in Michigan, through their local welfare centers gather together used clothing. Part and women have so much of these valued freedoms.

Our enjoyment of them should be disturbed so long as any of us are denied any of these freedoms — but we still should recognize with a heartfelt gratitude that we owe a great deal to America and those who have given themselves to make it great and protect its freedoms.

Flag waving seems to have gone out of style — both figuratively and literally. Some folks think any expression of patriotism is "corny" or "square" — but then some folks think saying "Thanks" is too old fashioned, too. I am afraid too many of us have let these few make us "the silent majority."

Speak out! When some kid accepts his responsibility to this country of ours and puts on the uniform of one of our Armed Forces, let him know you appreciate what he is doing for all of us. Write him — or his folks. Corny? I don't think so — and I don't think most of you do either.

If you don't own a flag — buy one. And fly it. Not just on Memorial Day and the Fourth and such. Fly it whenever the weather permits. Let that flag tell the world that you are not ashamed to be patriotic. It is the square thing to do.

is kept for local needs and the excess is sent to the Adventists' East Coast welfare depot in New York. Here it is held in readiness for shipment to disaster areas in any part of the world. Last year (1969) Michigan Adventists sent over 100 tons of processed used clothing to New York for this purpose.

According to Pastor Jess Nephew of Grayling, our eight million people in 42 countries with government declared disaster areas received help from the Adventist denomination last year.

Six different trucks were driven by the students to selected area collection points throughout the state. The clothing picked up will then be driven to Battle Creek where it will be transferred to 6 forty-foot trailers for the trip to New York.

The program is being co-ordinated through the offices of Pastor Watson M. Buckman, of Lansing, the director of welfare for the Michigan Conference of Seventh-day Adventists and Edward Jenkins head of the Lansing Community College's truck driver training program.

The Michigan Conference of Adventist will pay tolls, food and lodging for the men involved in the trip. Gas is being furnished for "Operation Disaster Relief" by the Pure Oil Company of Palatine, Ill. The cab and trailers are made available to Lansing Community College through eleven different tractor and trailer manufacturers.

New Slogan Adopted By Tourist Council

LANSING — As one of the first steps in meeting the challenges of the '70s, the Michigan Tourist Council has adopted a bold new slogan designed to create more travel to Michigan by out-of-state vacationers.

"The Michigans — the Almost Islands of the Great Lakes" will be the 1970-71 advertising campaign theme as the result of official action by the Council during its April meeting in Detroit.

"Never before has a campaign theme so aptly described the uniqueness of Michigan," said Ron Gamble, Council chairman. "Michigan is the only two-part state in the union, and on the map it appears to be islands nestled in the midst of the magnificent Great Lakes."

"Among the states, competition for tourist dollars is fierce," Gamble said, "because modern travel literally has placed the world at the vacationer's doorstep."

"If we are to attain our goal of generating 3-billion dollars in annual visitor spending by 1980, we must imbue in the vacationing public a fresh desire to come to Michigan. We feel this new slogan will help to do the job. It has an aura of intrigue with a hint of peaceful island atmosphere, yet implies that Michigan offers far more — its great cities, cultural attractions, industry," Gamble said.

"The Michigans — the Almost Islands of the Great Lakes. No other state can make this claim. This puts us on the map, pinpointing our location. It also gives us a new public image," he said.

During its two-day session, the Council reviewed proposals for the 1970-71 advertising campaign, with final approval scheduled for a subsequent meeting. The new slogan will serve as the underlying theme of the new campaign, appearing in media advertisements and on Council literature.

Hair Style Show At Kirtland

A full crowd of about 175 people filled the demonstration area and overflowed into the hallways at the first hair style show put on by Kirtland's cosmetology classes. Mr. James Read, Acting President of the college, made a few opening remarks in which he related some amusing events in the cosmetology lab as seen from his office across the circle. Meanwhile, the contestants removed rollers and prepared to comb out their first models.

Contestants were the 13 students that comprise the first and second year cosmetology classes at Kirtland. They are Mary Babcock, Jan Chambers, Loretta Gallop, Pauline Hatfield, Sue Horn, Sandra Korhonen, Gloria Kotz, Jane Legge, Sandra Lynk, Bea McKeage, Kay Parkinson, Jackie Swanson, and Ellen Tomak.

After the styles were combed out, the contestants and the audience took a brief break, during which refreshments were served. Then the girls combed out their evening styles, using hair pieces and ornaments.

All of the styles turned out to be very attractive, and cosmetology instructor Rosemarie Raven could be proud of all her girls for making the judges' job a difficult one. After some deliberation, the judges decided on the following winners.

First place in both the daytime and evening styles was awarded to Pauline Hatfield. Her models were Merry Stillwagon (daytime style) and Marcella Millikin, the contestant's sister (evening style).

Ellen Tomak took second place in the daytime style (her model was Mildred Koehle), while Loretta Gallop took second place in the evening style with sister, Beth Mann, modeling.

Kay Parkinson took third place in the daytime style her model was her mother, Frances Gehrsch, while Jackie Swanson took third place in the evening style (her model was Sue Shiel).

Judges for the event were Mrs. Cindy Johns of Mio, Peter Olson of Grayling and Gaylord, and Mrs. JoAnn Thompson of West Branch.

County-City Share In Highway Fund

LANSING — Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections for the first quarter of 1970 are being distributed to Michigan counties, cities and villages, the State Highway Commission said today.

State Highway Director Henrik E. Stafseth said net receipts in January, February and March were $132.3 million, up seven-tenths of a per cent from the first quarter of 1969.

Stafseth said the small increase is due for the most part to the later date this year for obtaining motor vehicle license plates. Because of this, it is expected that up to $5 million in additional license plate fees will be reported in the second quarter.

The highway fund is made up of state gasoline taxes and motor vehicle license plate fees paid by motorists.

After deduction of Department of State collection costs, 1.5 per cent for the State Waterways Commission and $3.5 million annually for the Mackinac Bridge Authority to reduce fares on the Mackinac Bridge, 46 per cent goes to the Highway Commission, 34 per cent to the counties and 20 per cent to the state's 528 incorporated cities and villages.

Under this formula, the Highway Department receives $60.8 million as its share of first quarter collections, the counties $45 million and the incorporated cities and villages $26.4 million.

First quarter amount received by Crawford County totaled $171,049 for 1970 compared to $189,337 in 1969. The City of Grayling received $10,585 compared to $10,548 in 1969.
